

Product Recommender

1. Create a product model base on Product suppose I have a different types of clothes e.g -

I have t-shirt with half and full sleeve and for different season like summer and winter

I have half and full paint and for different season like summer and winter

2. Based on product i send a product id to the backend through GET API.

3. After getting product Id get instance of that id and filter out the clothes based on that value like

My product id of t-shirt with half-sleeve then filter out all the t-shirt with hal sleeve and of that brand
